Once upon a time, in the middle of a green valley, there lived a hardworking boy named Farm Worker Tim. Tim grew vegetables in the field, watered flowers, and took care of animals. One day, while digging the soil, he found a hole emitting a bright light.

Curious, he looked inside, and suddenly, he was pulled in and found himself in a completely different world!

This world was covered with colourful mushrooms. As Tim looked around in awe, a delightful aroma reached his nose. In front of him were giant, fluffy, and glowing mushrooms.

Feeling hungry, Tim tasted one. Suddenly, a warm energy spread through his body, and he felt very strong...

As Tim discovered his new abilities, he suddenly encountered small turtles wearing shields and helmets. "This is our world! You do not belong here!" they said. Tim did not want to harm them, but the turtles started throwing stones at him...

The wolves became happy and released the farm animals.

Thus, everyone started living in peace. The turtles thanked Tim and gave him a magical mushroom to send him back home...
